EL YUNQUE RAINFOREST & LUQUILLO BEACH

For those nature lovers, we will take you to the Caribbean National Rainforest, known as "El Yunque". El Yunque is located 45 minutes from San Juan and is the only tropical forest in the United States National Forest System. Gorgeous views with 1000-year-old trees, exotic rainbow-colored plants and thick vines with large masses of lush red bloom flowers were the same views that dazzled the first Spanish explorers over 500 years ago. From the heart of this impressive beauty, you will hear the incessant, yet delicious, two-note song of the "Coqui", the chatter of tropical birds and possibly the quacking of the endangered Puerto Rican parrot.

Our excursion continues to the Balneario La Monserrate in Luquillo Beach, considered one of the best and beautiful beaches in Puerto Rico. It is located very close to San Juan and to the entrance of El Yunque National Forest. It has an extensive coast; its waters are calm and crystalline, and the sand is very soft. Find a spot under the palm trees and take a dip in its crystal-clear waters.

Enjoy lunch at the famous Luquillo Kiosks where you can find the local flavors distinctive of the island!
