

Six NCAA women's basketball teams will compete in the Discover Puerto Rico Shootout 2024

The event will feature teams from Virginia, Washington, Wisconsin, Wyoming, and Iowa

San Juan, Puerto Rico, November 19, 2024 – Discover Puerto Rico and Sport Tours International announced the Discover Puerto Rico Shootout 2024, a women's basketball tournament with NCAA Division I teams that will take place from November 28 to 30, 2024 at the Guillermo Angulo Coliseum in Carolina.

The games will feature teams from the universities of Wisconsin, Wyoming, Washington State, Norfolk State, Virginia, and Drake (Iowa) and will be part of the non-circuit competition cycle of these universities.

“The event has some of the best athletes at the collegiate level in one of the most popular and growing sports in the United States. The Green Bay basketball players face Virginia’s team for the first time since 2015. The Wyoming Cowgirls, one of the teams with the most wins last season, will face Drake’s team, the defending champion of the Missouri Valley Conference. We expect very competitive games,” said Carlos Deliz, director of Sports Tourism for Discover Puerto Rico.

“Sport Tours International is excited to once again partner with Discover Puerto Rico for the 2024 Discover Puerto Rico Shootout women’s basketball tournament. The Classic is one of the premier Division I women’s events in the sport, and the partnership with Discover Puerto Rico plays a large part in making that happen,” said Bret Seymour, Director of Operations of Sport Tours International. Admission to the games is free and limited to available seats. Fans can also watch each game live through www.FloSports.tv.
